Class Tutor's Comments
He is a wonderful student with a good sense of humor. During group works, he accepts the recommendations of peers and acts on them when appropriate. He is also considerate to his classmates's feelings; he is more social and helpful comparing to the first term. He is a very active student full of energy; with more moderation he can improve academically. However, he usually distracts others but we are using different disciplines procedures to help him improve his behaviors.
